GERMAN REDS DEMAND TIEUP WITH RUSSIANS

Communists Demonstrate In Berlin's City Hall;
Rivals Belittle 'Putsch'

BERLIN, Aug. 26 (AP)—A roaring Communist-led throng swept into Berlin's City hall today and heard their leaders demand a new municipal government to "work hand in hand with the great Soviet Union."

In a counter-demonstration three hours later, anti-Communists denounced the invasion as "the putsch that failed."

Slicing through lines of the Soviet-backed east Berlin police, about 500 Communist demonstrators installed themselves in the empty council seats while 10,000 others yelled in the streets outside.

Inside the hundreds shouted "Down with the capitalists" and "Down with the splitters of Germany" while those outside chanted the "International" and waved Red banners.

NO CASUALTIES were reported. The invaders left the chamber after listening to the harangues and the crowd dispersed without incidents.

The demonstration climaxed weeks of Russian attempts—spearheaded by the Soviet-sponsored Socialist Unity party (SED)—to smash the overwhelmingly anti-Communist city administration.

At the counter-demonstration of Berlin's Socialists, Conservative Christian Democratic Union and Liberal Democrats, speakers demanded that the council be given "a neutral meeting place" outside the Soviet sector and greater support from the Western-occupying powers.

More than 5,000 Berliners cheered speakers there who shouted that supporters of democracy in Berlin will stand firm and "turn back the tide of Communism come what may."

IN FRANKFURT, Gen. Lucius D. Clay said any attempt by Berlin demonstrators to take over the city government was doomed to failure.

"No action committees are going to take over the government of the millions of people we are responsible for," he told reporters.

Tipped that today's SED demonstration was the meeting of the anti-Communist majority of the city council canceled a meeting which was due to vote on the turbulent issue of sending a Berlin delegation to the constituent assembly of the West-sponsored German government.

Slowe Man Given Suspended Term On Three Charges

Stanley R. Wassiluk, 23, of 515 Vine street, Slowe, was free yesterday after being given a suspended sentence of two years by the Chester county court.

Charged on charges of burglary, driving with a suspended license and stealing automobiles.

Wassiluk who was released from the Montgomery county prison the past Aug. 11 after serving one year of a one-third term on charges of stealing cars, was given the suspended sentence Wednesday.

The young man was caught in the early morning hours of Aug. 9, 1947, after he had stolen a car from the Cates and Becker garage, 216 King street.

He led Patrolman Robert Scheidt a fast but brief chase up High street until he was overtaken near a West High street service station.

Under questioning Wassiluk admitted five car thefts in this area, two of them in South Pottstown and three in Pottstown.

SINCE THE thefts here had been committed first, the Montgomery county courts had preference in trying him.

In South Pottstown, he was accused of stealing two cars from Yahner's garage, the night of August 3-4, 1947. He wrecked both, one on East Main street, South Pottstown, and the other near Kirkwood.

At the time, North Coventry Police Officer Daniel W. Guidin assisted in the investigation.

In the West Chester court, Wassiluk was sentenced to serve the remaining two years of his sentence on probation.

MPs Line Border as Berlin Tension Shifts

Pro-Communist crowds forced their way into Berlin's city hall yesterday for a demonstration that called for a new city government to "work hand in hand with the great Soviet Union." But at Berlin's Potsdamer platz, only a few blocks away which was the scene of Russian kidnappings of German police a few days ago, all was quiet. U. S. military police are shown drawn across Stresemann Strasse, which leads to Potsdamer platz.

Hiss Described as Red By Budenz's Testimony

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Louis Budenz, former Communist leader, always considered Alger Hiss to be "under Communist discipline," according to testimony made public today by the House committee on un-American activities.

Budenz, now a professor at Fordham university, testified behind closed doors Tuesday.

Hiss, a former policy-making official of the State department, appeared at a public hearing before the committee yesterday to deny a charge that he was a member of an "elite" Communist underground in Washington before the war.

The charge had been made by Whitaker Chambers, a Time magazine editor who said the Chambers quit the Communists in 1937.

THE TRANSCRIPT of evidence showed that Budenz did not claim to know Hiss personally. When asked if he knew Hiss to be a member of the Communist party, Budenz said:

"In regard to the relationship of a certain individual to the party, and generally as far as the constant impression on me was concerned, it was that Mr. Hiss was equivalent to a member of the Communist party."

"The phrase 'Communist party member' so far as I refer to it, was never used, but that he was under Communist discipline was used and he was associated with Nathan Witt and Edwin Smith. Of course, this impression was strengthened in my mind, in fact, I knew Mr. Smith to be a member of the party. I had met him as such."

Budenz testified that he knew Witt, Lee Pressman and John Abt as members of the Communist party also. Chambers also has testified to that effect. All three were lawyers in the old agricultural adjustment administration in the early days of the New Deal.

Brakes Fail, Police Car Damaged in Accident

A police car, driven by Patrolman Joseph Thees, was damaged at 10:05 o'clock yesterday morning when it crashed into a pole at the Brookside Country club as the brakes failed.

The front bumper, grill, right front fender and hood were damaged, as the car struck the pole at the end of the tennis courts.

Thees, who was not hurt, was leaving the country club after investigating the theft of 100 feet of black hose from the golf course.

The robbery was reported by Michael Skinsky, greens keeper, who said the hose was taken between 7 Wednesday night and 7 o'clock yesterday morning.

Phillies' Women Toss Challenge To Get Into Sunday Water Battle

"There's nothing sacred any more—the women want to get into the water battles now!"

Mrs. Gladys B. Fegley, president of the Ladies' auxiliary of the Philadelphia Fire company, last night issued this challenge:

"We want to get into this too. We'll take on any Ladies' auxiliary team in the country!"

Her girls will climb in the flat-bottomed boats and go to it with all the vigor of the menfolks, she promised grimly.

WHILE MRS. FEGLEY was breathing fire in this manner, Victor L. Fegley, captain of the Phillies' water battlers, challenged everyone in sight.

"We don't care how many champions come," he blasted. "The more turn up, the more there'll be for us to sink."

He noted that so far, neither the Empire Hook and Ladder company nor the Good Will Fire company had accepted the challenge of the Spring Mount Fire company to do battle in Mantua park at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

"I don't know what's wrong with those guys," Fegley commented sadly. "I guess they figure they just wouldn't have a chance."

AIR PARCEL POST TO BEGIN HERE

New, Cheaper Service
For Sending Packages
To Open Wednesday

A new parcel post, to be known as "air parcel post," will begin in Pottstown Wednesday morning.

Postmaster Maurice E. Sassaman announced yesterday.

Under the new system, a parcel mailed in Pottstown one day will be delivered as far away as Los Angeles Calif. the following day. And for considerably less than the five-cent-per-ounce now paid for air mail service, the package weighs more than a pound.

The new service is expected to be a boon to Pottstown industries which already ship a heavy volume of parcels by mail. Many firms presently ship emergency parts and replacements by air mail paying a flat 80 cents per pound for the privilege.

WITH NEW RATES for the service, the same rates may be shipped to nearby points for as little as 55 cents for the first pound and four cents for each additional pound. Shipment to the most distant points in the country will cost 80 cents for the first pound and 65 cents for each additional pound, a considerable saving.

Sassaman suggested that persons using the new service bring their parcels to the post office for weighing to save money and for the fastest service. Parcels will be registered and insured at the usual rates.

Parcels are sent from the Pottstown post office to Philadelphia by train and then are shipped by air to their destinations.

To illustrate the speed with which parcels will be shipped, Sassaman pointed out the fact that the plane is taking off or landing within the United States every seven seconds.

Charles Buckwaller, Former Policeman, Dies in East Coventry

Charles P. "Skip" Buckwaller, 73, Chester county truck farmer, and one-time Pottstown borough policeman, died yesterday morning at 4:20 o'clock in his East Coventry township home.

Also a former steel worker, Mr. Buckwaller owned and operated his 14-acre farm for the past 30 years. The farm was situated on Buckwaller road, so named because he and his brother for many years were the only farmers who lived on it.

Besides his farm, which he retired to by choice in his early 40's, his chief enjoyment was fishing.

"Every year," said his step son-in-law, Clarence Decker, 556 Queen street, "he would catch up his work for a week or two ahead and then go fishing in Delaware or Maryland."

Possessor of a vast collection of fishing and camping tackle, Mr. Buckwaller particularly enjoyed camping out when he fished and knew intimately the entire country.

Heat, Prices Create Meat Buying Slump

Pottstown's current problems of how to get mother out of the stifling kitchen; the kids off to school and meat prices down from the heights have conspired to slow meat counter business to a walk.

This was the report last night of local meat dealers on the situation during the first two weeks in August, which are traditionally the two slowest of the year.

"There's no doubt about it," declared Harold Litvin, manager of a Bahr arcade store, "these weeks are always the two worst."

Litvin hazarded several reasons for the annual slump.

One, he said, is that mothers right now are all wrapped up in preparing their children for school, and don't have too much time left for preparing meals.

Record-Breaking Heat Fells Five in Area; Plants Close

Camp Ends Season With Deficit of $1500

The Spicer's Employees' Aid association lost approximately $1500 during their first season of operations at the Pottstown Community camp this Summer.

In addition, a loss of $3500 was incurred when the crafts lodge burned to the ground July 27, destroying valuable tools and machinery.

These figures were revealed last night by John A. Shaner, chairman of the camp committee and president of the Aid association, who presided at a meeting of association members.

The meeting was held to make up a complete report on camp operations.

"We intend to keep on operating the Pottstown Community camp," Shaner declared. "We don't expect to put it on a paying basis next year, because we want to keep the fees as low as possible, and were running the place quite economically now."

THE BIGGEST expense the past Summer was food, Shaner revealed. The food bill was $4600. Five hundred dollars went for ice cream alone, $1300 for fresh meats and $1000 for milk.

The second largest item, $3500, was for camp personnel.

The aid association considers the money well spent, said Shaner. "We're well satisfied with the staff, and the director said he'd be happy to return next Summer with all his staff members that the draft doesn't take."

A new crafts shop will be built next Spring to replace the one destroyed by fire.

It will be constructed of cement block with an aluminum roof, Shaner described.

Camp officials had expected to build the lodge this Fall, but roofing repairs on existing buildings will come first.

ASSOCIATION officers hoped last night that the camp's accommodations for 150 youngsters would be filled each of the six weeks in 1949.

This year, the greatest weekly enrollment was 110.

They also hope for public help again next year. This Summer, donations to The Mercury Relief fund sent 246 youngsters to the camp for one or more weeks.

On an average, Shaner pointed out, the boys and girls gained three pounds for every week of camp. Increases were especially noted among the underprivileged children, a few of whom saw such delicacies as chicken for the first time in their lives.

Speaking of expenses, Shaner asserted that losses would have been greater this year had maintenance expenses been included in the budget.

"Our own men did all the maintenance work, both before and during the camp season," he explained. "They painted the buildings, cut the grass, did carpenter work and what electrical work was necessary. It hadn't been for them putting in their own time, our losses would have been much heavier."

Shaner paid tribute to the individuals and organizations that made the camp season a success for the boys and girls.

"I think we can look forward to an even better season next year," he added.

BRITISH DENY CHARGES

LAKE SUCCESS, Aug. 26 (AP)—Britain today denied charges by the Soviet Ukraine that displaced persons in the British zone of Germany are being treated like criminals.

COMING UNDER the jurisdiction of the Pottstown board are eligibles in New Hanover, Douglass, and Upper Lower and West Pottsgrove.

Schulz emphasized that out-of-town residents working in local plants may register here.

"They don't have to go home to register," he said. "After they register here, their cards will be forwarded to the board at their permanent address. That board then will have permanent jurisdiction."

Business Partner Sought In New Jersey Slaying

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 26 (AP)—Henry Martin Brooks, 61, a New York financier, was sought today for the murder of his business partner, Joseph R. Watkins, in the driveway of Princeton Inn last night.

Merger County Prosecutor Mario H. Volpe said he had "definitely established that Brooks was at the murder scene."

Volpe said Brooks owed his partner $72,000 as a result of a suit instituted by Watkins and that Brooks had made unsuccessful efforts to have the judgment set aside.

But that's bad enough, he added.

It Was Scorching In Sun, Shade All Over Area

Squeeze out your hanky again and take a gander at yesterday's unofficial temperature list in and outside Pottstown. The official borough topper was 96 degrees.

Penn Service, Collegeville (in sun) 118
Hilltop Garage, Royersford 96
Mallard apartments, Royersford (inside) 101
Pruss Hill (noted for coolness) 93

As the temperature stayed above the 90 mark for seven solid hours, street crowds dwindled to a trickle and hundreds of workers stayed away from plants.

The top mark easily shattered the previous record of 94 for the day, set the past year, and the weatherman said it will continue hot and sunny today and tomorrow.

Most seriously affected by the heat yesterday was Fred W. Seidel, 66, of Philadelphia. Reading tower telegraph operator at Royersford, he was found at 3:15 o'clock last night, slumped in his chair, unable to talk.

Dr. Thomas W. Tucker, Spring City, later said he had suffered a heart attack induced by the heat. He was rushed to Hahnemann hospital, Philadelphia, in a Friendship Fire company ambulance.

OF THE OTHER victims, two fainted at the Eastern Foundry company, Boyertown.

Clarence Funk, 27, of Alburys Rd., who shakes hot coals out of molds, fainted over at 2:30 p.m. at his work where the estimated temperature was 130 degrees.

Suffering violent stomach cramps, he was treated on the spot by Dr. John Waring, Boyertown, and then sped to Pottstown hospital where he was admitted. His condition was termed "good" last night.

The other victim at the plant was Benjamin Hightower, Philadelphia, who lost consciousness at 11 a.m. when he was carrying a coil of wire from the plant to his home. He was taken back to Philadelphia by employees of his firm.

Because of the heat the plant will be closed from today until Monday, Russell R. Schaeffer, secretary, said.

OF THE TWO remaining heat sufferers, one was a baseball player and the other was an 81-year-old man.

Eddie Mauger, shortstop on the Doehler's baseball team, collapsed after striking out in the third inning at 6:45 p.m.

He was revived by first aid between innings, and finished the game with Flagg's nine on Franklin field.

William Hoffman, 61, of 129 Second avenue, Royersford, collapsed from the heat last night as he was walking down Second avenue. (Continued on Page Nine)

Trailer Overturns; Driver Tossed Out

Fourteen tons of fire clay were strewn on West King street and a driver was pitched from his cab when the truck last night at 9 o'clock when the truck and half-trailer rolled backward down a short, steep grade.

Clayton Boyer, of Reading, was coming from Aberdeen, Md., with the load of fire clay for the kilns of the Robinson Clay Products company. The front wheels of his cab were just across the tracks of the Colebrookdale junction.

At that point, the air hose controlling the brakes on the 20-foot all-metal trailer tore in half. Unable to resist the pull of the immense, un-braked load of clay, truck and trailer rolled swiftly backward.

The trailer tipped on its side. This morning a tractor shovel and dump truck had removed the 14 tons of clay, and a crane was at the job of uprighting the trailer.

War May Come This Year, Bullitt Declares; Blames Roosevelt for Appeasing Russians

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Russia and France, said today in the current issue of Life Magazine, "We may be forced into war this year."

In an article entitled "How We Won the War and Lost the Peace," Bullitt laid "our insecurity" to President Roosevelt's "failure to demand pledges from Stalin in return for lend-lease aid."

Bullitt, Roosevelt's personal ambassadorial representative abroad, wrote:

"In the Summer of 1941 we could have laid down the terms on which we were prepared to give aid to the Soviet Union and Stalin would have been obliged to accept our terms."

Then, and until V-E Day, he said, "we held the power to direct the destinies of the world." He said he warned Roosevelt of the risks of unconditional appeasement of Russia and got this reply:

"Bill, it's my responsibility and not yours; and I'm going to play my hunch."

Bullitt said the late President's "hunch" was that he could get Stalin to accept "Christian ways and democratic principles" by showing him Russia had nothing to fear.

BULLITT ALSO laid the following to Roosevelt:

"The policy of appeasing Japan which led us by devious paths to the disaster at Pearl Harbor."

"The President had never (before late 1937) revealed to the country the facts in his possession with regard to the ultimate threat to the U. S. involved in the actions of either the Japanese militarists or Hitler."

"The President knew that war was coming to the American people but in his campaign address at Boston on Oct. 30, 1940, he said: 'Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars.'"

"President Roosevelt supported General Marshall" against Winston Churchill, who suggested an "at-lack through the Balkans or Trieste so that the Danube valley might be in our hands and not in the hands of the Communists," Bullitt said.

Bullitt said Roosevelt knew "as early as 1934" that Stalin wanted a pact with Hitler and that after Russia's attack on Finland in 1940 the President "used his influence to have the Soviet Union expelled from the League of Nations."

Eisenhower to Dedicate Hospital for War Hero

DENVER, Aug. 26 (AP) — General Dwight D. Eisenhower will help dedicate a new hospital Tuesday to a man he calls one of his best division commanders, the late Maj. Gen. Maurice Rose.

Rose was killed in action leading his 3d Armored division in its race to cut off the Ruhr.

Eisenhower, who is vacationing in Colorado, will lay the cornerstone to the memorial hospital and make the dedicatory address.

16 Freight Cars Make Unscheduled Journey

BRIDGEPORT, Aug. 26 (AP) — Sixteen Reading company freight cars broke loose from their engine and rolled backwards two miles through five grade crossings today but no one was injured and nothing was damaged.

There might have been a serious wreck, a railroad spokesman said, but luckily "there were no trains on the tracks at the time and no traffic on the grade crossings."

The cars came to a halt by themselves at Ford street, in Bridgeport.

The cars were being switched from one track to another when they suddenly broke loose.

Mae West 'Upset' On Witness Stand; Court Is Recessed

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 26 (AP) — A symmetrical, satin-clad Mae West, flared up on the witness stand today and the court was sufficiently impressed to call a recess until the blonde actress cooled off.

The argument concerned the succession of lovers upon whom Czarina Catherine of Russia conferred her favors. It might not seem important at this late date, but it appears to be an issue in the $100,000 plagiarism suit filed against the actress by two writers, Edwin K. O'Brien and Michael Kane.

The writers' attorney was questioning Miss West about Prince Potemkin, Count Gregory Orloff and one Alexis Orloff. She was asked where Potemkin figured in the line of Catherine's lovers.

MAE SAID SHE couldn't see what difference it made whether he was the first, the 10th or the 100th.

"It's going to matter before we get through," said Henry T. Moore, representing the writers.

After more questioning, Miss West, 55 years old, turned to Superior Judge Samuel Blake and said:

"I can't think, your honor. I'm too upset. Can we take a recess?"

The judge looked at the clock and said if Miss West was indeed angry and upset the court would take a recess.

The writers allege that Miss West appropriated some of their material for her production "Catherine Was Great." Miss West testified earlier in the day that she had never seen the script from which the writers claim material was pirated.

Pilots Re-Schedule Flight to Poconos

A breakfast flight to Lake Wallenpaupack, which was postponed the past Sunday because of poor flying weather, was re-scheduled for this Sunday by members of the Airplane Owners and Pilots association, Pottstown chapter, when they met in an outdoor session last night.

Thirty members and their wives gathered at Ringing Rocks park, where a watermelon party was held. Movies of local pilots at work and play were shown by William Weiss.

Vernon Shaffer, chapter president, was in charge of the meeting.

Those planning to make the forthcoming flight were requested to regulate their takeoff time from local airfields in order to arrive at Wallenpaupack by 10:30 a. m.

Committee in charge of the evening's program included Harry Wolf, Richard Scheffey, Harry Schneider, Paul Mitchell and Charles Weidner.

Beaten Rival Asks Mayor Be Impeached

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26 (AP) — A demand that Mayor Bernard Samuel be impeached was made today by Democratic leader Richardson Dilworth.

Dilworth, who was defeated by Republican Samuel in a bitter mayoralty contest the past November, has since campaigned for a fusion ticket of Democrats and liberal Republicans to unseat the old guard in the Quaker City.

In a series of street corner addresses last night, Dilworth asked that impeachment proceedings be initiated by Republican City Chairman William W. Meade before Jan. 1. Dilworth said that if Meade takes no action by the first of the year he and his group of independent Democrats will take the necessary steps to seek removal of the mayor.

Alberta Gallatin Childe, Former Actress, Dies

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (AP) — Mrs. Alberta Gallatin Childe, 87, once acclaimed as one of America's greatest actresses, died yesterday in a city hospital.

In her stage career of more than 30 years she was associated with such distinguished leading men as Edwin Booth, Maurice Barrymore, Otis Skinner, Richard Mansfield and Jacob Adler.

Miss Gallatin made her stage debut at 17. Her roles included many of the greatest, ranging from Shakespeare's Ophelia, Juliet, and Portia to Mrs. Alving in Ibsen's "Ghosts" and William A. Brady's "Eppie."

It is the practice of the multitude to bark at eminent men, as little dogs do at strangers.—Seneca.

Weather's Ideal for It

A LOT of shallow cynics take delight in poking fun at picnics, but the popularity of outdoor eating indicates that the sourpusses are overwhelmingly outnumbered.

This Summer the weather has been ideal for dining al fresco (that's Italian and means in the fresh air). Early growth put a quietus on mosquitoes and, except for a few short spells of rain, the lure of the outdoors has been practically irresistible.

The housewife has found the picnic a god-send in this year of stratospheric meat prices. She never could have gotten by with so many Wieners and so much hamburger in the family diet if she hadn't been able to serve them at a picnic table. She thereby escapes work, too. Many a man never touches a skillet in the kitchen, but get him outside in a decorated apron and he won't let anyone else near the fireplace.

Supper and Sunday dinner have precedence for outdoor meals. Don't overlook breakfast in the yard on a leisurely morning, however. If there's anything better than a stack of wheaties, an egg or two, plenty of bacon and a big pot of coffee, all cooked over an open fire and topped off with blueberries, we haven't met it. Breakfast has come to be a hurried pause between the bedroom and the office. Take it in a relaxed mood with an aromatic wood fire sending lazy spirals of smoke into the air and pretty soon you're at peace with the world and your digestion is purring like a 12-cylinder motor.

And speaking of picnics, what is finer than a feast of sweet corn beneath the sky in this region which produces the finest golden bantam in the world? Roasted or boiled and running with butter it's a dish to bring the gods down from Olympus. Nothing except corn is necessary, but if you want to gild the lily, finish with cold watermelon.

Invite your picnic skeptic friend and you'll cure his dyspepsia and change his mind. If diplomatic conferences could be held at open air meals, international amity could be taken for granted.

A Fine Art

THE art of living is the finest of fine arts. Here is a clue from the Orient as to its perfection:

When the patient Chinese wish to bring their jade ornaments to a soft polish, they place the crude shapes in a leathern bag and shake them together endlessly until edges are rounded off.

The friction of one against the other does the trick.

It could be said that when the Author of this universe decided to bring into being a well-rounded and civilized people, he too placed them in groups of families, neighborhoods, communities and nations where the friction of daily living would wear off the sharp edges.

At least, that is the way it works if we give it a chance.

Civilization is the art of living together.

We are constrained to do so by the very nature of our needs.

Like people on shipboard at sea, we may not always like the company we find ourselves in. But nobody can get off and walk. For better or worse we must stay by the ship.

Living together requires some degree of brotherly give-and-take.

The "give" is of rough edges; the "take," urbanity.

Our Eight Favorite Noses

A ZOOLOGY professor at the University of Nebraska who makes a hobby of collecting pictures of noses says there are eight basic kinds, and we don't know what they are, but our eight favorite kinds of noses are as follows:

The nose that is followed by its owner, the nose that is not poked into other people's business, the nose that isn't kept too close to the grindstone, the nose that isn't altogether as plain as one on a man's face, the nose that isn't being paid through, the nose that isn't cut off to spite a face, the nose that isn't turned up at anything, and the nose that isn't looked down at anyone.

When these eight basic noses are brought together in one basic nose, we not only like it, but the person that goes with it.

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:

Wal, don't feel sorry for the Detroitis, St. Louis Browns, Washingtons and Chicagoes. Think what a wonderful spot they're in to watch that terrific four-club American league pennant race!

Pottstown High school seems to have brought in the football season. Maybe that's wrong. Uncle Sam opened it by booting out, not the first pigskin, but that Soviet consil.

And say: It's 4662 miles from New York to Moscow, but that's just a short punt for Uncle Sugar when he's mad. Hopin' you air the same,

READERS SAY:

Take Police Appointments Out of Politics

Give Power to Commission

To the Editor: I'm waiting, just waiting for borough council to hedge around the civil service commission's recommendation for police sergeant.

The commission will give them the name of the cop who passed with the highest marks. Then, with appropriate hemming and hawing and shaming, borough council, true to its own peculiar standards, will appoint the man they decided on months ago in a smoke-filled room.

Knowing the habits of that crew of thoughtful pirates as I do, I am sure that is the course they will take unless, by happy chance, it just happens that their choice coincides with that of the commission.

Which brings me to another point. The council should approve the commission's choice. If they don't, it will be the work of dirty politics. So why give council the chance of upsetting the apple cart in the first place?

Why not let the commission, who presumably knows something about it, pick the cops? Why not bar the politicians who know nothing except that they have few favors to repay?

But, since they still do have a choice, I hope that, if or when they do override the commission, it will be the signal for instant impeachment of the whole cut-throat crew.

Stagger Clerks' Time Off

To the Editor: I work 5 1/2 days a week in plant in town and sometimes a full six days. That's not any more than the clerks in Pottstown stores work, but I have to get my time off when the work is slack.

So I don't see any good reason why the store clerks should want the businesses to stay closed every Wednesday afternoon during the year. The clerks should arrange to give them time off so that they only work 5 1/2 days, but stagger this time off so that the stores remain open the full six days.

I think this is a better idea than to deprive shoppers of the half day on Wednesday.

Wife Beating Epidemic

To the Editor: What's this community coming to? I've been shocked at the frequent number of news items in the Mercury telling of husbands beating their wives. And one wife helped even things up by beating her husband.

Is there no respect in marriage any more? Are we returning to the age of the cave man when the club was a standard household instrument of whipping the little woman into line?

It seems that, if this keeps up, the borough probably will extend the amusement tax to cover wife beatings and vice versa.

Then, if a man got caught swinging a broom at his better half without first paying the tax, he would get a double rap in court.

I think wives are nice people to have around. That's why I'm shocked at all this.

They burn your toast at breakfast.

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

Light Summer Reading

I AM EVER tantalized by the sentimental things some showfolk do, which they never talk about, and which I seldom read about. Only yesterday I learned that actress Peggy Wood makes a pilgrimage each year to the commencement exercises of a small college in New York State, because her late husband, the poet John V. A. Weaver, was an alumnus of the school.

She has refused, politely, to make public addresses at the ceremonies; she just sits there on the campus with the rest of the visitors, watching the awarding of the diplomas.

And there's the custom of Helen Hayes, who became the dear friend and confidante of the stage doctor, Dr. Henry Miller, theater almost a decade ago. Since then, Helen has made periodic trips to the theater, whether or not she was currently on Broadway, just to exchange Rialto gossip with the old man.

THE EUROPEANS are a source of constant admiration to all tourists in matters of food and cooking, of course, so I was not surprised when the French developed 40 delicious ways to cook cabbage when it was the only food in Paris during the occupation, and I took it calmly when returning GI's went into ecstasies over how deliciously they could transform a box of K. rations.

But when our friends across the sea put something over on such a food expert as Mary Margaret McBride, that's another tale. Mary

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

MARK T., 47, is a prominent Chicago physician.

"Dr. Crane, someday I wish you'd run a Case Record about the psychology of credit," he announced out of a clear sky as we had lunch together recently.

"I have been carrying a family for a year, because the husband was hardly making enough to feed his children, and I just couldn't bear to see them suffer. I also delivered a baby for them during the past six months. Then one of the youngsters contracted pneumonia. I not only donated my services, but I actually paid for the oxygen tanks out of my own pocket and furnished the other medicines.

"At first, they seemed very grateful. I told them it was all right to let my bill slide, for I knew they'd get on their feet ultimately. They aren't the typical 'dead beat' type of people.

"Later, however, they began to turn a bit cool toward me, and take the attitude that they weren't getting enough service. They intimated to my nurse that I was neglecting them.

"Then last week I learned that they have started patronizing another doctor, with cash in their hand.

"So I am apparently left holding the bag. Thus I not only am out my medicines and the oxygen charge on that pneumonia case, but don't even rate a thank you for 27 house calls I made or the delivery of their last baby.

"Sometimes this type of ingratitude just burns me up. What do you make of it?"

MARK'S CASE is duplicated by probably every physician and dentist in every town in this land. It illustrates the "psychology of the dolt."

Whenever we do too many favors for a person, without permitting him to reciprocate, we defeat his vanity! He soon feels humiliated. Then he vaguely regrets his dilemma, for he is belittled in his own sight.

But repeatedly in this column I have pointed out that people refuse to turn their anger on themselves for very long. Soon they demonstrate what we call "projection" or passing the buck.

They will evolve a roundabout rationalization so that they can actually bite the hand that feeds them, yet feel no qualms.

Moral: Let people pay at least something for whatever they get. Never give a dolt, either to Europe or our own citizenry!

Accept a couple of pigs or a simoniz and repair job on your car in exchange for delivering their new baby, but let them pay as they go. They'll stick to you then and be friendly.

Then they tell you about that $10.95 dress downtown while you're hunting up enough bus fare to mind the kids. And it's your turn to mind the kids! Just when you open up the paper to find out how the Braves and the Dodgers made out.

We've got an SPCA. How about an SPCW?

Pottstown CASPER M.

More Policemen Needed

To the Editor: I am interested in finding out who wins the election for sergeant in town, but I am even more interested in finding out if this new job is the beginning of better police protection for the town or just a flash in the pan.

We live in the East End, and I'll tell you there are mighty few officers who ever get out our way. Not that I am blaming them. There are just not enough of them to go around now that the town is growing.

The trouble is we have an old horse and buggy set up in our police department when we have a town of more than 20,000 people.

If Pop Myers is able to keep the politicians away from their trough on the election for sergeant, then how about him and his commission being named to make a thorough looking into of the horse and buggy set up? And the first thing they should decide is to hire at least a few more officers right away, not after we have even more robberies out here.

And by the way, when are the brass hats going to solve the ones we have had already? I do not expect the local department to be as good as the FBI, but certainly they should be able to catch somebody once in a while.

POWERFUL STUFF!

Hollywood

By EDITH GWYNN

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 26—On that deal for a picture (it's an original for the screen yet untitled) that Garbo just signed with Walter Wanger, she insists on one of three directors for it.

For the three being, Rene Clair, George Cukor or Rosellini, who made "Paisan".... The Andrews Sisters, currently wowing Londoners, asked a man in the audience to join their act the other night.... The little fellow obliged, sang with them in his thin, cracked voice and then nearly fell down on the stage trying to do a time step with one of the gals. The audience roared an ovation to him as he said, "Guess I was cut out to be a comic." The man? It was Irving Berlin!

OUR BRITISH spy also reports that it's about set for John Wayne to come over there and star in "The Quiet Man" which John Ford will produce in Ireland. Maureen O'Hara and Victor McLaglen also have top roles. But the picture probably won't be made for several months for Wayne is supposed to do "Alamo" or "Eagles" in Exile as soon as his curfew film, "Wake of the Red Witch" is finished.... And by the way, Aida Mara, who plays opposite John in this one, is Republic's bathing suit "pin-up girl." But she had to learn to swim for scenes in it!

JANE NIGH is leaping about the late spots with Bill Nigh.... A note from Maestro Meredith Willson, says, "I've written a book and it's too late to apologize. It's called, 'I Stood With My Piccolo'.... The latest reconciliation of John Payne and Gloria de Haven has fizzled and now they're rifling for keeps. She blames her wish for a career. Hm, mmm. Reminds us, when we first itemed about the domestic troubles at the Bob Mitchum's, we had our typewriter spanked. Now look! They're STILL trying to make up their marital minds!

FORMER STAGE and screen star Mary Nolan is back at the Cedars of Lebanon hospital for the fifth time since January. She can't take nourishment and has to be fed intravenously.... The "Independence" of India, with its vast movie-going public (and did you know that country makes more pictures than any in the world?) has resulted in strict Hindu censorship. Kissing, petting and night club scenes are banned. Even well-dressed actresses are frowned upon, the Hindus figuring such display might start a wave of buying imported goods.

OSCAR DE MAJO, Vall's husband, is forming a band with Tony Romano with which he'll tour South America and Europe.... Besides the zooming of her movie career (from John Garfield's second lead in "The Numbers Racket" to George Raft's lead in "Out-post in Morocco") Marie Windsor did three coast-to-coast radio shows last week. The Saturday night Polo Matches here are catching on, and being staged indoors, they furnish the extra thrill of having horses and players practically in your lap.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY Samuel Goldwyn and Eric Coates, composer, have birthday anniversaries on this Aug. 27.

HOW'D YOU MAKE OUT?

1. An Indian pony; a broncho.
2. Vermont.
3. Solomon's temple.
4. The right rear leg.
5. From the points of the compass: North, East, West, South.

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Firm Comes Back... It's Woman's Turn...

COMEBACK — Price Millwork company, a long a Pottstown landmark, is making a comeback. Out of business the past four years, the firm plans to resume operations in its new plant at Mervine street and Kaufman road, a half mile beyond Pottstown's borough limits. The Price organization now is installing planing mill machinery, making alterations to the building. Price Alder is president of the company and E. H. Heydt is secretary-treasurer.... That aluminum house State cops will use at the driving test course on North Hanover street, cost $700. That's less that it costs to erect a garage these days.... A family of six is looking for a house because they were ejected from the home they rented. The landlord wants to convert it to apartments—for couples without children!

WOMEN'S GRIPE — Writes Esther W.: "I went to the midget auto races the other night and boy! have I got a stiff neck now!"

"You simply can't see around a man's straw hat. If we yelped as much about men not removing their hats at the races as the men squawk about women's hats in the movies, maybe the races would have more women patronage. After all, it isn't too much of a task for a man to sit and hold his millinery on his lap, and if he did, the people behind might be able to see. Won't you help this one-woman campaign to get the men to show just a teensie-weensie bit of consideration?"

GRUESOME — Government employes says treasury department sleuths plan examinations of mausoleums because they feel black marketers cached large sums of untaxed cash in them.... There's a new set of hose attachments (modeled somewhat after the vacuum cleaning accessories) to make it easier to wash the roof of your car or hard-to-reach windows and walls. The kit contains a long tube, a mop and a pressure-breaking nozzle.... GIVE AWAY DEPT.—Mrs. Jane Stehruck, 970 North Hills boulevard, has two puppies to give away. Phone 2749-R.

ATTRACTIVE — Bill Boden reports couple of New Holland shoppers came into his son's factory, said they traveled the 34 miles to buy there because they saw his advertisement in The Mercury.... Rats must be supple creatures. Experts have found the rodents can squeeze through openings half their size.... Latest gadget in hot water bottles works for a hangover or cold feet. You put the bag containing some special chemical in hot water and it retains heat; slip it in the icebox for a few minutes and it comes out cold.

FIRM — Automobile salesman tells this one on his boss. His company sold the man of the house a new car, got an old model in exchange. The delivery was made and the wife drove the new car home. In a matter of minutes after she had arrived home, the company telephoned her that her husband had removed the fog lights from the car he had traded in and that the company wanted those fog lights. "But," she protested, "those fog lights don't go with the trade-in." The man said to bring in the fog lights or else. "We had no intention of leaving them on the car when we traded it in," she went on. "We want those fog lights, or else," the man repeated. The wife then informed the dealer that she would be only too glad to take back the brand new car and get her old one. The man told her that would be all right with him. Inside of half an hour she had the pleasure of driving the new car back, returning it and getting her old model. She's fully convinced that even with the car situation as it is today it's the customer who's granting the favor in the purchase of a car and not the dealer in the sale of one.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

A GOOD many children are born with certain ear deformities which, though not serious in a physical sense, may yet have grave consequences because of the ridicule they cause.

The ears may be abnormal in their size, shape, or position, and any one of these things can make a child miserable. To be teased and twitted by other youngsters about such a flaw in appearance leads to distrust, resentment, and a host of other unpleasant emotions which may turn a slight physical defect into a lifelong emotional handicap. For this reason parents should see to it that such conditions are corrected as soon as possible.

Fortunately today, the plastic surgeon can do wonders in this way. In the case of outstanding ears it is a mistake to use retaining devices such as skull caps, adhesive tape or bandage, none of which will bring the ears into normal position. For this an operation is required. But to be successful it must be the right operation. Removing part of the skin back of the ear and then sewing the tissues together to bring the ear closer to the head will accomplish nothing. This is because the skin stretches so readily. Thus, within two or three weeks, the ear will usually have resumed its outstanding position.

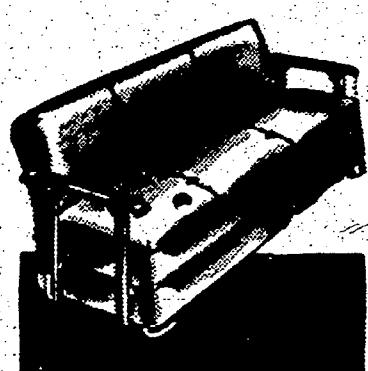

In general, to be successful, any operation to correct either the shape or position of the ear must be done on the cartilage of the ear itself—not on the skin covering it. Just what type of operation should be performed can only be determined by a plastic surgeon after he has made a careful study to determine what the deformity is. Aside from ears that stick out from the head, abnormalities of the position of the ears are rather rare. In such cases, the tissues connecting the external ear to the head are cut, making sure that enough blood supply is saved, and the ear moved to the proper position. The ear usually has reached its full growth in size by the time a child is six years of age. Hence operations to correct ear abnormalities may be performed at that time without fear of retarding further growth of the ear.

Vacationing Mercury Readers

By THE VACATION EDITOR of The Mercury

Snugbert took stock of his vacations in the past. Every year he had wanted to go to the mountains, and his wife wanted the shore. Every year her tears changed his mind, and he followed her to the beach.

This year he decided he'd save all the trouble and simply announce that they would go to the shore. Secretly, he had enjoyed himself at the beach, but it would be poor strategy to let the wife know that.

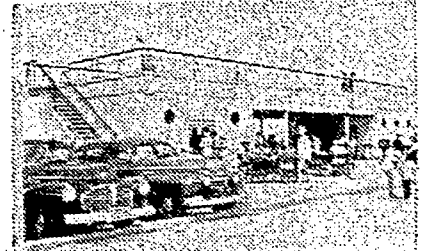

"Honey, we're going to the shore again this Summer." His wife said: "No, dear, I'd like to try the mountains this time." Secretly, she had tired of the shore, but she wanted him to think she was being considerate by wanting the mountains.

Snugbert wanted to be thought considerate too, and he insisted on the shore. The wife insisted on the mountains. She began to cry. Thus, Snugbert took the Mrs. to the mountains, where he was out of sorts: the whole vacation period simply because he had spent the Summer gearing himself for the shore.

Snugbert says it will be a cold day in August when he gets to understand his wife.

Myerstown Farm Girl Named Potato Queen

COUDERSPORT, Aug. 26 (P) — Winsome, brown-haired, Mildred Gible, of Myerstown, was named today as the 1948 potato blossom queen of Pennsylvania.

The 20-year-old farm girl was selected at the annual field day at nearby Camp Potato attended by an estimated 3000 potato growers and their families.

Miss Gible won out over a field of 17 contestants, all daughters of Commonwealth potato growers.

corporation plant here and at the Boyertown Bural Casket company to be registered where they work, Schulz added.

Other plants may adopt a similar plan when they reopen after a week's shutdown, ending the day after Labor Day.

Two registration centers in the Pottstown area were named yesterday by Davis T. Kirk, member of Selective Service board No. 108, Norristown.

Centers are:
East Greenville High school for registrants from East Greenville, Pennsburg, Red Hill, Green Lane, Marlborough and Upper Hanover and Upper Frederick townships.

Collegeville-Trappe High school for registrants of Collegeville, Trappe, Schwenksville and Royersford and townships of Perkiomen, Lower Frederick, Skippack, Upper Providence and Limerick.

YOUTH DROWNS IN POOL
MINERSVILLE, Aug. 26 (AP) — George Leutke, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Leutke, of Scranton, drowned today while fishing in a closed swimming pool.

Most earthquakes are caused by slipping of the earth's crust, although some are of volcanic origin.

96-DEGREE HEAT —

approaching the intersection at Main street at 7:30 o'clock.

Pitching forward on his face onto the sidewalk, he badly lacerated his face. Dr. Rudolph K. Glocker, Royersford, treated the elderly man at the scene and sent him to Pottstown hospital in a Friendship ambulance. He was in "good condition" last night.

MEANWHILE, TWO area plants closed yesterday because of the heat.

Stanley G. Flagg company, Stowe, sent almost all workers home at 1 p.m. and closed down all but maintenance sections. Union Foundry, Boyertown, was shut down yesterday and may remain so today.

Many firms reported absenteeism yesterday afternoon and last night. About 50 workers out of the 650 on the second shift at the Spicer Manufacturing company left their posts last night and 30 left the 900-man second shift of the Doehler-Jarvis Die Casting plant yesterday afternoon, managers said.

Some afternoon shift workers at the Firestone Tire and Rubber company plant took time off and practically all the second shift at Vaughan's Knitting mill left work before they began yesterday afternoon, an employee said.

ON A LESS spectacular but more general level, persons all over were beating the heat as they knew how. This meant a variety of methods—swimming, consumption of cold edibles, shade, cool moves, flying at high altitudes and so on.

All swimming facilities were choked yesterday far into the night as the mercury stayed above 80 until 11:45 p. m.

Along the banks of the Manatony and other nearby streams, bathers, young and old, near and away from familiar spots, dunked. Mrs. Raymond C. Hartenstein, wife of the manager of the Sunnysbrook pool, said about twice or three times the normal crowd for a weekday showed up at the pool. Many of 200 or 300 stayed until after 10 p. m., she said.

Most of the bathers yesterday, she noted, tended toward water bathing rather than sun bathing, obviously because of the heat.

DRUG STORE operators claimed trade at the soda fountains was up anywhere between 20 to 100 percent because of the soaring mercury. Richard G. Leh, of a High street drug store, estimated the demand for cool drinks and ice cream was "doubled easily" yesterday.

That's practically all we sold," he declared, sipping a cool cupful he had concealed behind a toothbrush case.

Other stores reported a less spectacular rise in these sales. Brooke Binder, of another High street drug store, said cokes and milk shakes took most of the business.

"Lots of times they go without lunch because they're too hot," he explained. "Then they come in here all afternoon and drink cool drinks."

Most druggists said the heat slackened off business at the drug counter because customers did not roam the streets as on a cool day.

ONE OF POTTSTOWN'S two movie theaters realized better business from the heat.

Ammon Mauger, assistant manager of the Hippodrome, said a "considerably better than average" crowd stormed the floors seeking diversion and lower temperatures.

Pottstown was not the hottest place in the country even though it may have felt that way.

Philadelphia racked up a 100, at New York's LaGuardia airfield it was 102, Baltimore registered 101 and folks in Yuma, Tex., had a staggering 108.

Paradise, Pa., was reminiscent of spot farther South in the order of things. The thermometer read 102

Since rice cannot be grown in the cold uplands of Tibet, it is a luxury eaten only by the wealthy inhabitants.

Taproom Punching Case Is Continued to Saturday

The hearing for Asa R. Lloyd, 24, of 261 Queen street, accused of punching a High street bar proprietor early yesterday, was continued until Saturday morning.

The victim of the blow, Pomery Lucci, proprietor of the Commercial House grill, 133 High street, requested the continuance to check his injuries with an eye specialist. Lucci, who wears glasses, was struck on the bridge of the nose and one lens was broken.

Lloyd posted a $20 deposit for the hearing, set for 11 a. m. before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward.

the next few days will be to carry out his survey of residential areas, and to find the demand in each type of neighborhood.

"After that I want to set up a rough financial structure," he continued, "and by the early part of next week I'll have something definite to show potential investors."

as a man "who was then a member of the National Labor Relations board, or who was about to leave it."

Chambers never named Smith as being connected with the Communists.

AS LATE AS 1944, Budenz testified, the name of Hiss was mentioned in party circles during discussions of people who could "use some influence."

Hiss now heads the Carnegie

He said he preferred not to work through government sources, in order to avoid "red tape."

When disorder of kidney function permits poisons matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Miss Kellems Gives In on Zoning Dispute, Says She'll Move Plant Out of Westport

WESTPORT, Conn., Aug. 26 (P)—Miss Vivien Kellems, cable grip manufacturer who has been waging war simultaneously with the United States Treasury department and the Westport Town Zoning commission, gave in today to the latter adversary.

In an indignant statement, she said she and her family were leaving town and were taking their cable grip business with them because "a small clique of selfish, unpleasant people have persisted in persecuting us."

Miss Kellems thus served notice she was abandoning her previously announced intention to appeal from a decision of the Fairfield County Common Pleas court, handed down Wednesday, directing her and her brother to move their cable grip shop in compliance with zoning regulations.

"All of our real estate has been listed for sale, and we expect to be out by Dec. 1," she said. Dec. 1 is the date set for compliance in the common pleas court order.

MISS KELLEMS, whose shop is in an area zoned for business but not for light manufacturing classification into which her establishment falls, would not say where she was going.

She told newsmen, however, that she had offers "from all over the United States," some of which would provide a factory "for the asking in addition to free taxes for ten years."

Miss Kellems, careful to keep her controversies separate, had nothing to say today about her running battle with the Treasury department over her refusal to deduct withholding taxes from her employees' pay and turn them over to the Internal Revenue bureau.

A 20 percent decline in national turkey production is estimated for 1948.

Magic Pleases Rotary, But Can't Make It Cool

Forty-five members of the Pottstown Rotary club braved last night's muggy heat to watch a magician's performance at their meeting in the Elks' home.

They reported, "He was good, but he couldn't make it any cooler."

Rotary President S. Ernest Kulp was in charge of the session.

Men Top Women As Entertainers in Grangers' Contest

A contest to determine which sex was most proficient in staging a program of entertainment with home talent came to a close last night in the North Coventry grange hall when the men walked off with the honors.

Women grangers had their chance during the past week's session, and although their attempt was not a feeble one, they failed to make the grade.

As a result, the women treat the men to a picnic supper Saturday night at the home of member Jack Walters at 6:30 o'clock.

Judging the two events were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Satterthwaite, Brandywine grange, and Mr. and Mrs. William Lammey, Honeybrook grange.

DURING THE business meeting, it was announced that an invitation was received from the North Coventry PTA, requesting the grange to join with them in holding a farm show in the North Coventry High school, Sept. 28. The two groups put on a similar affair the past year.

The invitation was accepted and a committee was appointed with Harvey Walter, chairman, C. Rudolph Kulp, Kent High, Mrs. Isabel Roseworn, and Mrs. Betty Yocom were assigned to work with the PTA.

William Barth served as master of ceremonies. A song-pantomime combination was presented by a male group, followed by a talk by Jack Walters on "Home Farm Forests and Their Management." A male quartet comprised of Leonard Keim, Victor Ayres, Arthur Irwin, and Earl Kerlin, accompanied by Marjorie Berriker, gave a few numbers.

Kulp then presented a farm topic, discussing the use of 24D, short name for a weed killer, its effect on corn itself, and the spray's future possibilities. He also elaborated upon the saving of cultivation and the increase in yield, discussing the various signs that indicate mineral deficiencies in corn, such as discoloration of leaves.

Barth followed with a recitation of an old nursery rhyme in 50-cent words, and challenged anyone in the audience to repeat the same rhyme in simple words. Underestimating the nursery rhyme knowledge of some of the mothers, he was forced to give prizes to four winners.

A skit entitled "If Men Played Cards As Women Do" was presented by Ayres, Calvin Spicher, Robert Swavely, and William Schenck. The program wound up with another quartet selection.

Man Is Accused Of Making Threat

William Delaney, 23, of 56 West Third street, was arrested early last night, accused of threatening to kill his mother.

The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by his mother, Mrs. Bessie Delaney, 56 West Third street, after an altercation at their home.

He threatened to kill her, the charge on the warrant read, if he ever saw her on High street.

A tall, slender blond Delaney was arrested at 8 o'clock on the Reading concourse after he was traced there by Patrolmen Paul Galloway and Michael Shanta.

The hearing, where he also will be charged with disorderly conduct, will be held tonight before Justice of the Peace Raymond C. Kelley, of the Second ward.

Youth Suffers Deep Gash In Fall Against Glass

A four-year-old Hilldale boy received a deep, long gash in his right arm late yesterday afternoon when he fell from an auto fender against a half-pane of glass in a Pottstown garage.

Edward Roberts, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward N. Roberts, Road B, Hilldale, was playing near the garage of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Baldwin, 530 Walnut street.

He was standing on the fender of a car parked in front of the garage, apparently tinkering with the half-pane, when he fell.

The gash was sutured at the office of Dr. Herbert P. Seto, and the boy was taken to Memorial hospital.

between northern Delaware to Cape Charles.

BORN IN POTTSTOWN, Mr. Buckwalter lived here until he bought his farm. His first job was operating a crane for loading and unloading ore from freight cars at the Warwick Furnace plant, at the West End of Pottstown.

After a similar job at the McClintock-Marshall plant (now Bethlehem Steel) he joined the police department and served as patrolman for eight years just before and during World War I.

"He quit the force because he wanted to be his own boss, to be free for himself," Decker explained.

The last job Mr. Buckwalter held in Pottstown was as an operator of a road roller for borough street crews.

FOR MANY YEARS the truck farmer used a stall in the Farmers' market as an outlet for his vegetables and fruit.

He was of the Reformed faith. In addition to his wife, Florenda M., and a daughter, Mrs. Cordelia Mertz, Spring City, he is survived by a brother, Howard L., of 1070 Queen street; four stepchildren, Mrs. Edna Benfield, 11 Plum street, Mrs. Katie Hoover, 301 Grant street, Mrs. Stella Decker, 856 Queen street, and

Lorin Ellis Elected Head Of Churches' Brotherhood

Election of new officers featured the monthly meeting of the Salem-Baltzell United Brethren brotherhood when members and their families met in Ringing Rocks park for an outdoor session.

Officers named were Lorin Ellis, president; James Smith, vice president; and Raymond Rhoads, secretary-treasurer.

A short business meeting was conducted by Walter Smith, past president. About 30 persons attended.

The September meeting of the brotherhood will be held in the Baltzell church.

challenged this year after winning eight straight victories.

THE NORTH WALES Fire company also is due in town Sunday, and all concerned have agreed that the giant battle will be staged for the benefit of The Mercury Relief fund.

Two earlier battles this Summer added more than $250 to the fund.

As usual, flat-bottomed boats will be chained about 50 feet apart Sunday. Two and one-half inch hoses will be used giving 50 pounds pressure at the nozzle.

Portugese Ignore Actress Hayworth

LISBON, Portugal, Aug. 26 (P)—Movie star Rita Hayworth and Prince Aly Khan of India were scheduled to fly to Biarritz tomorrow morning in the prince's private plane.

In view of Miss Hayworth's determination not to see strangers and to avoid newspapermen, local fans have decided to ignore the couple.

TITO'S DISPUTE WITH REDS PUT ON HIGH PLANE

Yugoslavia Note Charges Romania With Plotting Against Premier's Regime

BELGRADE, Aug. 26 (AP)—Yugoslavia has moved to raise her quarrel with Russia and other Communist countries to government level.

Diplomatic sources took this view today of Foreign Minister Stanjovic's action in handing the Romanian government a note accusing Romania of violating the much-publicized treaties of friendship, cooperation and mutual assistance between the two countries.

Specifically the note charged Romanian officials with inciting Yugoslav citizens to open revolt against Premier Marshal Tito's regime.

Diplomatic circles here saw the declaration as a step to end the pretense of Russia and her satellites that the quarrel is only a party fight and below government level.

THE MOVE IS considered the most critical development in Communist bloc relations since publication of the Cominform (Communist International Information bureau) charges against Yugoslavia's leaders and the decision by Albania to scrap her treaties with Tito.

Yugoslavia now has charged Romania with outright violations of the treaties. Observers believe that unless the Bucharest government apologizes, the incident may set off a chain reaction throughout the rest of the "people's democracies" who have woven an interlocking system of such treaties.

An editorial in the Communist newspaper Rorba said it was "senseless and hypocritical" to assert that relations between the Communist parties and between states were two different things.

THE EDITORIAL made clear that the Yugoslav Communists are convinced that the breach between this country and other Communists is complete and beyond repair.

The Yugoslav note directly accuses not merely the Communist party of Romania but responsible state functionaries of trying to incite Yugoslav citizens to open revolt and overthrow of the legal government of Yugoslavia. Such a charge is one of the most serious that can be made against another nation in the realm of international relations.

Wilkes, who during the war commanded a submarine squadron credited with the sinking or damaging of 55 enemy vessels, succeeds Rear Admiral Roscoe E. Schuirmann who is returning to the U. S.

Shaw Must Pay Temporary Alimony

Until settlement of their matrimonial troubles, orchestra leader Artie Shaw yesterday in New York was ordered to pay $150 weekly temporary alimony to his wife, Kathleen Winsor Shaw, shown above with her husband. Shaw seeks an annulment of their marriage, she asks separation.

Justice Cites Shaw's Mark in Marriage Field

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (P)—A Supreme court justice today ordered orchestra leader Artie Shaw to pay $150 weekly temporary alimony to his wife, Kathleen Winsor Shaw, author of "Forever Amber" pending trial of matrimonial suits filed by the couple.

Shaw seeks an annulment of the marriage, charging that divorces granted him and his writer-wife in Mexico in 1946, prior to their marriage, were void.

In an earlier action, the orchestra leader based his annulment suit on the ground that Mrs. Shaw had refused to bear him children.

Mrs. Shaw, charging cruel and inhuman treatment, filed a cross-suit, asking a separation.

IN ADDITION TO temporary alimony, Shaw also was ordered by Justice Samuel Dickstein to pay his wife $2500 for counsel fees.

Matrimony and divorce are not "novel experiences for either Shaw or his wife," Dickstein said in his decision. He added that the band leader "has been before the public eye both as a result of his professional proficiency as a musician as well as his five unsuccessful matrimonial ventures, some with equally prominent women, before the instant fiasco."

CZECH CLAIMS WEST IS LOSING WORLD POWER

Church Group Also Told Refugees Prefer Death To Life Under Soviets

AMSTERDAM, Aug. 26 (AP)—Delegates to the World Council of Churches heard behind closed doors today the plea of a theologian from Communist-ruled Czechoslovakia for more imaginative thinking in the West on the international question.

At the same secret session they heard a speaker, not identified, report many persons preferred suicide rather than return to the Soviet orbit.

The speech by theology Prof. Joseph Hromadka, of Prague, replied to a statement made in sectional debate of the council's assembly by John Foster Dulles, American Presbyterian layman.

This ended the first phase of the church battles here over Soviet policy and Communism. The subject was brought before the council on its opening day by the two men.

Dulles argued that the Soviet Union was not devoted to peace. Prof. Hromadka declared the West was declining from a former position of a supreme world power and did not realize it.

IN TODAY'S SECRET debate, reported later to the press by a council spokesman, Hromadka repeated that the West was deluding itself "when it imagined it possessed freedom and others did not."

This important section of the assembly, grappling with the general question called "the church and the international disorder," also got further into debate on pacifism and began exploring the problem of colonial imperialism.

A campaign against apathy toward moral uplift and responsibility for peace developed during the day's debates under the leadership of the bishop of London, Dr. John William Charles Wain.

The bishop, reporting at a news conference what he had told his sectional meeting, called such apathy a "what-the-hell" attitude and said it would have to be overcome.

Debate at the section, on "the church and international disorder," was reported at the news conference by chairman, Kenneth G. Grubb, Church of England layman.

Russian Teacher Faces Operation

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (P)—Mrs. Oksana Kasenkina's temperature went down to normal today for the first time since she jumped from the Russian consulate two weeks ago and was injured critically.

Her physician said she would undergo an operation on her fractured knee Saturday.

Garrard Winston, of the Roosevelt hospital board of trustees, said the teacher had agreed to have an "independent" lawyer advise her.

Makes Up Mind

Actress Lynn Merrick, 25, (above) yesterday in Los Angeles, Calif., severed the last ties of her marriage to Conrad Nagel, 50, after taking five months to make up her mind. Her final decree of divorce was entered in Superior court yesterday although she could have filed in any time since the past March.

Mediator Orders Jews to Move Troops From Red Cross Zone

War Scare Fades On European Front, Dulles Declares

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (P)—John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign policy advisor, said tonight he did not feel war was imminent.

"The atmosphere is somewhat calmer in Europe this week than it was when I left last Saturday," he added.

Dulles returned by plane from Amsterdam where he attended the assembly of the World Council of Churches.

He told reporters he talked last night with Lewis W. Douglas, U. S. ambassador in London, about "the present status of negotiations in Moscow on the Berlin situation." He declined to give details of the talk.

Dulles said he attended the church conference "to give the delegates the American idea on the moral issues of Communism."

STOCKHOLM, Aug. 26 (AP)—Count Folke Bernadotte today threatened to cite Israel for violating the Palestine truce unless Jewish troops are removed from international Red Cross zones in Jerusalem.

The United Nations mediator instructed Gen. Aage Lundstroem, his chief of staff, to get a final answer from Israeli Foreign Minister Moshe Shertok. Failure to comply will bring a direct report to the Security Council, which ordered the Holy Land truce.

Brig. Gen. William Riley, of the United States Marine Corps and Bernadotte's special representative in Jerusalem, said the local Jewish commander refused to move his troops from the Red Cross area. Bernadotte asked Lundstroem to draw the attention of the Israeli government to "this serious incident."

Bernadotte's action was regarded here as a major test of his authority to regulate the positions of the Jewish and Arab forces during the cease-fire.

In Jerusalem, Israel notified a U. N. official of "52 cases of truce violations by Arabs." The incidents—described as sniping, fire from automatic weapons, shelling and concentrated attacks—were laid before John I. McDonald, U. S. consul general chairman of the American-French-Belgian U. N. consular truce commission.

Australian Couple Awaits Second Try At Global Sea Trip

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (P)—Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Carlin, who started around the world in a converted Army amphibious "duck" and were picked up after drifting 10 days, said tonight they would try it again.

The tanker New Jersey radioed the Coast Guard last night it had taken aboard the couple and their 17-foot craft 270 miles east of New York. The tanker is scheduled to reach Montreal Monday.

The couple had set sail for the Azores as the first leg of their world trip. They were last heard from Aug. 11, shortly after they sailed from here.

Carlin is an Australian engineer and was a war-time major in the Australian army. The pair had hoped to ride and sail around the world in about six months.

GUEST SPEAKER SCHEDULED

The Rev. Ralph R. Gresh, pastor of the St. James Lutheran church, Gettysburg, will be the guest preacher at the Sunday morning service at St. John's Lutheran church, Boyertown. His sermon theme will be "How God Values Man."

Congressman Injured As Train Hits Auto

HERINGTON, Kan., Aug. 26 (AP)—Congressman Ed Rees (R-Kan.) was injured this afternoon in a collision of his automobile with a Santa Fe railroad motor train.

Rees was driving alone when the accident occurred at a crossing one mile east of Lost Springs, Kan.

He was taken to the Municipal hospital at nearby Herington where physicians said his injuries were believed not serious.

Dr. Fred Dozier said the congressman received abrasions and a fractured rib.

The age of some turtles at death has been estimated between 200 and 250 years.

Delegation Wants U. S. To Admit 'Red Dean'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—A delegation representing the American-Soviet Friendship society today urged the State department to reconsider its refusal to permit Dr. Hewlett Johnson, dean of Canterbury, to visit the United States under its sponsorship.

The group made this request to Charles M. Hulten, deputy assistant secretary of state, during a 50-minute conference at the department.

Dr. Johnson, widely known as the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, has been denied a visa to enter the United States for a lecture tour. The State department took this action because the society is on the "subversive" list compiled by Attorney General Tom Clark.

Mrs. Kasenkina has said she wrote Lomakin once from the farm. The other communication was the note she left in her room when she leaped from the consulate window two weeks ago.

New York Police to Determine Authenticity Of Letters Attributed to Mrs Kasenkina

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Photographs of two letters Moscow said were written by Mrs. Olga S. Kasenkina are being turned over to New York police to find out whether they are genuine.

The State department announced the action today, without stating there is any official suspicion that they were not written by the refugee Russian school teacher.

But Press Officer Michael J. McDermott noted to reporters that "their authenticity has not been confirmed." Other officials made plain they expected the New York police will check personally with Mrs. Kasenkina in the hospital where she is recovering from her leap to freedom from the Soviet consulate.

The two letters represent almost the only unexplored angle of the affair of the Russian school teachers who missed the boat which was to have returned them to their homeland.

THE STATE department asked Russia for copies in last week's note which directed that the Soviet consul general in New York, Jacob M. Lomakin, must leave the U. S. Moscow unexpectedly complied with the letter request in responding with an order to close down the Soviet consulates in New York and San Francisco and serving notice the U. S. consulate in Vladivostok likewise must close.

The letters may hold the key to Mrs. Kasenkina's actual frame of mind when she was at the Red farm, an anti-Soviet colony in New York, and later when she leaped from the consulate. Lomakin declared he "rescued" her from White Russian "kidnapers."

Mrs. Kasenkina has said she wrote Lomakin once from the farm. The other communication was the note she left in her room when she leaped from the consulate window two weeks ago.

She told reporters yesterday in her first interview that the first letter made clear she wanted to break with the Soviet regime and that she leaped to get out of Lomakin's custody.

Officials assume the New York police eventually will make the letters public as a part of their investigation of the case of Mrs. Kasenkina and her fellow teachers Mr. and Mrs. Mikhail Samarin.

MAKING LIGHT of the closing of the Vladivostok consulate, McDermott told the news conference that the State department "very often" had thought of closing it because "it was of no value whatsoever."

The U. S. he said, objected repeatedly to the restrictions placed by Soviet authorities on the consulate staff and around all Americans in Russia.

"We have always sought for our people in Russia the same freedom of movement which the Soviet citizens enjoy in this country," he said.

"Our people do very little traveling outside of Moscow. Usually they go just about as far as their automobile gas tank will take them."

THE "VOICE OF AMERICA" beamed to Russia today a recording of the interview with Mrs. Kasenkina.

The State department said the recording was made during the press interview and contains the voice of Mrs. Kasenkina answering questions in Russian to inquiries by reporters. Her replies were translated into English.

Officials said the recording will allow Soviet listeners to

126 Pottstown Reformed Members Attend Celebration at Bethany Orphan's Home

Among the thousands which thronged Bethany Orphan's home in Womelsdorf yesterday for the celebration of the institutions 85th birthday anniversary were 126 from the Pottstown area.

The institution, which is supported by the Evangelical and Reformed churches, was founded in Philadelphia in 1863, moving to Womelsdorf in 1867. Each year a special outdoor celebration, with both carnival and religious happiness prevailing is staged on the home grounds.

Highlighting the many featured presentations of the day was the religious pageant given by about 50 children of the home in the large outdoor pavilion especially constructed for the homecoming events. Children and officials of the home work for weeks on their outdoor presentation with the writing of the pageant, the sewing of the costumes and all directing coming from the Home's own talent.

FOUR STORIES from the Bible, "The Testing of Abraham," "The Life of Moses," "The Story of Ruth" and "The Parable of the Good Neighbor," with all participants in colorful costume, were presented as yesterday's pageant.

Morning and afternoon concerts were presented by the Allentown band, while the Bethany Orphans band joined forces with them for the presentation of a selection prior to the pageant.

Greatly admired by the many attending from Pottstown were the many bazaars sponsored by each of the synods of the Evangelical and Reformed church. Here was shown nearly everything possible in the way of needlework and fancy work, while other booths featured beads, cookie jars, pets, candies, home made baked goods and the usual novelties.

POTTSTOWN WAS represented by Mrs. Frank Witmyer and Mrs. Anna Drumheller, members of the Zion's Reformed church, in the booth supported by the Philadelphia synod.

Another major part of the program was the presentation of special prizes in leadership, scholastic, character, conduct and disposition classes with a total of 27 awards being distributed.

In between the various events on the program the visitors were free to walk through the various buildings and about the grounds to inspect the facilities which the home provides for the 122 children now registered there.

At noon and over the supper hour the many thousands were served chicken and turkey dinners in the dining hall.

THOSE WHO ATTENDED from the Trinity Reformed church, were: Mrs. Lyman Grubb, Miss Phyllis Grubb, Mrs. George Funk, Mrs. Blanche Bower, Mrs. John Kirkhoff, Miss Ellen Kirkhoff, Mrs. Emma Smith, Mrs. K. E. Gallagher, Mrs. J. Russell Geiger, Sr., Mrs. Lloyd Stephens, Mrs. Earl Renninger, Mrs. Emily Herbine, Miss Joanne Renninger and Miss Gloria Struckman.

Also Miss Lillian Longenberger,

Mrs. Elsie Burdan, Miss Margaret Milligan, Mrs. George Blum, Mrs. Lester Edleman, Mrs. Howard Weikel, Mrs. Walter Fryer, Mr. Robert Von Drach Jr., Mr. Haven Knecht Jr., Mrs. Daniel Ellis, Miss Annette Edleman, Mr. and Mrs. El Ludwig, Mrs. Caroline Reigner, Mr. Richard Mensch, Mr. Donald Blum, Mrs. John Blum and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Kurtz.

From St. Paul's Reformed church and from Zion's Reformed church the list included Mrs. Linwood Shaner, Mrs. Edward Heimbach, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Gross, Miss Edith Sherfel, Mrs. Robert Herringer, Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Rhoads, George Rhoads, Mr. and Mrs. Dale March, Mrs. Maurice Prick, Mrs. Daniel Reifnyder, Judy Moyer, Mrs. James Waters, Mrs. Louis Swavely, Mrs. Donald Sands, Sharon, Stanley and Donna Sands, and Mrs. Austin Sunstrom.

Also Mrs. Sanford Bechtel, Mrs. Frank Witmyer, Bob Witmyer, Mrs. Irma Reigner, Miss Anna Reigner, Miss Ruth Buckwalter, Mrs. Edward Weand, Mrs. John C. Levan, Anna Mae and Connie Levan, Mrs. Conrad Rath, Mr. and Mrs. William Witmyer, Douglas and Nancy Heimbach, and Mrs. Fred Irvin.

AMONG THOSE attending from St. John's Reformed church and St. Paul's Reformed church, Stowe were: Mrs. Henry Frech, Mrs. Muldred Ludwig, Mrs. Norma Biting, Mrs. Walter Reed, Mrs. Roy Eagle, Mrs. Raymond Seyler, Mrs. Wilson Mest, Mrs. Mattie Bush, Mrs. Elsie Jones, Mrs. Samuel Yerger, Miss Jane Mest, Mrs. Mary Yerger, Mrs. Edna Moyer, Mrs. Edna Mauger, Mrs. Ralph Weidner, Mrs. William Lessig, Mrs. William Antrim and Mrs. Marion Smith.

Now It's Mechanical Grocery

Mrs. Johnnie Childers (top), uses her camera-like "key" to register a purchase in the "Kee-doozle," mechanical food shop in Memphis, Tenn., the brain-child of Clarence Saunders, shown (bottom photo) tabulating purchases. Code numbers of items desired are punched in tape of "key," then translated into price total. Meanwhile, items purchased arrive at counter via conveyor belt.

PERSONALS

Mr. and Mrs. J. Howard Brunner and son, Thomas Robert, East Lansing, Mich., are visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard S. Brunner, 137 Seventh avenue, Royersford. Mr. Brunner Jr., is assistant professor of dairy manufacturing at Michigan State college, East Lansing.

Saturday, Mr. Brunner, a member of the U.S. Naval Reserve, will sail from Norfolk, Va., on a two-week training cruise.

U. S. Approves Shipment Of Steel Balls to Czechs

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (P) — Commerce department officials said today a license has been granted to export to Czechoslovakia 7,000,000 steel balls which could be processed in that country into ball bearings.

"The value of the shipment was under $20,000," they said. The name of the exporting U. S. firm was withheld as being a "confidential" business matter.

Since the past March, the department has reduced U. S. shipments to Russian bloc nations to a trickle. This was done by clamping down on shipments of industrial equipment that might add to Soviet "war potential."

But Secretary Sawyer and other officials have declared repeatedly that the U. S. does not intend to stop trade with the Soviet sphere altogether.

They explained that, among other things, the U. S. wants to continue to get from the Russians manganese and chrome, vital materials for U. S. industry.

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By SHEPARD BARCLAY

Every Knock a Boost
IT REQUIRES a special kind of stick-to-it-iveness to regard everything that happens at the bridge table as a possible favor instead of the contrary. Some of the game's greatest players almost make it appear at times as if their motto is "Every knock a boost." Moves made by the opposition, or odd disclosures in the arrangement of the cards around the table, or even mistakes they make themselves can bring application of that slogan into play. Keen analysis often shows them how to profit from such factors.

His chance for this was promoted when East led the spade 2 and West ducked the J in the hope he might later get two tricks in the suit. Mr. Crawford seized on that break. He next scored the diamond A and led the heart 3. East held up his Q and the J won, for break number two. Then he ran four more diamonds, the spade A, heart A and K and was ready for the finisher. Knowing East must have the club A-Q for his bid, he led the heart 7 to the Q. East could do nothing after that except pitch away from the two-club honors to make the club K winner of the eleventh trick. That fortuitous but planned-for end-play turned a bottom score into a top.

Tomorrow's Problem

Q J 9 8 7 6 5 4 3 2 A K 7 3 A 6 2 K 8 4 2
N E S
J 10 4 J 10 9 7
J 10 9 6 J 9 6 2 K Q 9 8 3
None

(Dealer: West. Both sides vulnerable.)
West North: East South
Pass 1 4 1 2 4
Pass 3 NT

John R. Crawford, one of Philadelphia's "thinkings" bridge masters, noted that East's bid was all that kept his side from getting into 4-Hearts, which would surely be the contract at most tables in the national tournament where the shuffle produced this deal. He also said that an extra trick would probably be taken by North in one of those heart contracts. In that event, his pair was doomed to a terrible score on the deal unless he too could wrest eleven tricks from the cards, which would in effect turn defeat into victory.

When Temperature Goes Up, Up and Up All Over, Some Interesting Things Happen

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP)—When it was sure hot today. Sweat rolled off the collective citizenry in such streams that put all together the volume of perspiration probably would equal the Mississippi and all its tributaries. But don't ask for any proof. Maybe it just seemed that hot. It was hot all over. And a lot of funny things happened.

For instance, New Haven, Conn., firemen had to cool off a bridge. It was a draw bridge and heat expanded the steel sections so they wouldn't close. Cooled by water from a fire boat, the bridge sections shrank enough to close.

Deep in the heart of Corsicana, Tex., a cistern was set on fire. The cistern, in a lumber yard, had not been in use. It was covered with old lumber, paper and other trash. Then a quantity of unslacked "hot" lime was thrown on the pile. Rain-slaked the lime and the heat so generated set the cistern on fire.

In Chicago, Reporter Virginia Leimert, of the Chicago Daily News, advised coolly-clothed girls not to waste a drop of sympathy—or perspiration—on the poor, hot businessman in his steaming suit. Miss Leimert asked each of about a dozen businessmen if he would dare wear a cooler costume, such as Bermuda walking shorts, an open-collared sport shirt, and open-work sandals, for just one commuter's trip to the city.

The universal answer was "No." Some of the comments: "Do you think I'm crazy? My company is very conservative. We can hardly get away with seersucker suits." "What kind of a nut do you think I am? If my fiancée's family heard about it, they'd break off the engagement."

A town in Pennsylvania is called Cold Point. But it's a misnomer. The temperature hit 100 degrees there today.

Boston's Red Sox have been awfully hot lately, too. As the Cleveland Indians will agree. Maybe being on top of the American league had something to do with the Red Sox management's courtesy today to its bleacher fans, who also were not but in a different way. When the mercury mounted to the mid-80's, the bleacherites were invited "to come into the grand stand if you wish." Most of them did so and, in various stages of undress, watched their heroes beat Cleveland 8-4.

Wednesday was the hottest Aug. 25 in Baltimore in 45 years—97 degrees—but municipal swimming pools closed for the season. The city's fathers explained the closing date was set several months ago before they had any idea it could be so hot at this time. They also said the pools already had run over their budget for this Summer.

At New York's International airport, 45 passengers wearing woolen clothing and topcoats stepped off a plane into 100-degree heat. The plane had come from Iceland, where the temperature was 52.

At Hillsboro, Wis., heat twice held up the wedding Tuesday of Raymond Pischa and Lillian Machovec in the St. Aloysius Roman Catholic church. The bride fainted twice during the ceremony and each time was carried out by the bridegroom. The knot was tied on her third trip to the altar.

Doehler's Capture Playoff Opener

HOLOWKA HURLS OVER FLAGG'S 7-3 VICTORY

Heat Cuts Down Action
Of Contest; Second Tilt
In Series Listed Tonight

Doehler's outlasted the heat and Flagg's last night to take a 1-0 lead in the final series of the City Industrial league before an assortment of about 600 fans who saw the Diecasters chalk up a 7-3 victory.

The 90 degree weather brought the game down almost to a walk before the evening was over and its effects could plainly be seen on the players.

Pitchers John Holowka of Doehler's and his opponent, Bobby Millard, started the game with all they had. After several innings, it was just about all they could do to get the ball over the plate.

The hitters, although worn down by the elements, were still in better shape than the twirlers and blasted out a total of 22 hits in the seven-inning contest.

Holowka, a giant of a man, gave up a run in the initial frame as Flagg's took the lead which they held at two different times during the contest.

MERRILL HOOK beat out a hit to third to open the Flagg's half of the first inning. He stole second and scored when Ernie Mauger fired low to first on Harry Penrose's grounder to short.

Doehler's got that one back in the top of the second when Gerry Egolf laced a single to left, was sacrificed to second, and raced home on a one bagger to center by Holowka.

Flagg's came right back in the half of the second to take a 2-1 lead. With one out, Jim Knepp picked a triple to left center and scored as Joe Monjar drove a single to center.

The winners batted around in the third, scoring four times and sewing up the ball game. Two untimely errors by Penrose and one by Hook aided the winners cause.

WITH ONE A WAY, Paul Pfeiffer was safe on Penrose's boot and he scored the tying run on a blast through the box by Nels Weidenbaugh. Gerry Egolf went out for the second out of the inning and it looked as though Millard might get out of the woods.

But, Merrill Mauger was safe on another misplay by Penrose and Dixie Rysor walked. Jim Egolf beat out a roller to Hook at deep short and then took second as the shortstop fired the ball wide to first. Holowka followed with his second single of the night, a single to right field driving in the final runs.

Doehler's made it 7-2 with a two-run barrage in the fifth. Merrill Mauger opened with a double down the left field line. Rysor walked and Jim Egolf beat out a bunt to load the sacks. Eddie Mauger then drilled a single to right to count the final pair of tallies.

Flagg's chalked up its third run of the night in the fifth. Bob Millard popped one up toward first and began walking back to the bench. He started to run when Merrill Mauger misjudged the ball and it rolled away from him with the Flagg's pitcher winding up on second. Hook followed with a screaming double to left-center but was out when he overshot the bag. Millard scored on the hit.

The second game of the five-game series will be played tonight at 6 o'clock on Franklin field.

East End Nips All-Stars In Fresh Air Fund Tilt

East End, after chalking up its second straight Industrial Softball league title, Wednesday night, proved they were tops in the league when they defeated the All-Stars 4-2, last night on Fisher Field.

Collections from the estimated crowd of 200 fans amounted to $10 and will be turned over to The Mercury Fresh Air Fund.

The All-Stars, a picked group of players from all other teams in the league, made it a real ball game, outbidding the winners, 7-5 but they couldn't get the runs when they counted.

After three scoreless frames, the champions pointed the two runs across the plate in the last of the fourth to take a 2-0 advantage.

THE ALL-STARS kept pecking away at the offerings of Scherer and picked up a tally in the fifth and another in the top of the sixth to deadlock the contest at 2-2.

East End, however, came back with a brace of tallies in its half of the sixth to sew up the decision. Jack Kramer's home run with a bang on proved the margin of victory for the East End crew.

The benefit game officially closed the Industrial league season. East End capped its second title after whipping Spicer's Cafe, 4-2 in the sixth game of the series. Spicer's won one, East End, three, and a pair of contests were tied.

HEAT OR NO HEAT,

Trojan Practices Continue

Come heat, or what have you, football drills at the Pottstown Community camp at Earlville continue on and on.

Yesterday, with the temperatures pushing the boiling point, Coach Heber T. Meyers sent his Trojan gridders through two workouts and the only thing he would concede to the heat was to permit the boys to shed the heavy equipment—otherwise, it was just another day of plenty of running and lots of work.

In the morning session, the boys worked on fundamentals and held a lengthy passing drill. Ball-handling and signal drills also had their part in the workout. "I've given them about all the plays for now," Meyers pointed out.

"It was too hot to really move," he added, "and if it hadn't been so hot, they would have worked a lot harder. As it was, they worked pretty hard anyway."

Last night, the boys had dummy scrimmage and practiced punting and a similar schedule has been lined up for today.

"I'd like to get in some contact work but if the heat continues, I don't see how we can do it," Meyers said. "Of course, we can still find plenty for them to do, heat or no heat."

Most of the boys went swimming yesterday afternoon during their period of relaxation. It seemed to them, the best way to beat the heat.

Bethlehem Combine Snaps Cardinalette Streak at 17

Flossie Donovan brought an abrupt end to the Pottstown Cardinalette 17-game winning streak last night as she pitched the Bethlehem Armorettes to a 2-0 field on Lafayette field.

Donovan, in besting "Rocky" Kramer, allowed the State champions only four hits, three of them by catcher Dottie Frech.

The Armorettes rapped out a half dozen safeties off Kramer, including a wasted triple by catcher Doris Koch in the third inning.

The game was a scoreless deadlock for five and a half frames until the Armorettes opened up with a pair of runs in the last of the sixth, and that was all Donovan needed to chalk up the triumph.

The Cardinalette meet the 17th Ward of Reading tonight on the latter's field. Game time has been set for 6:15 o'clock.

ATHLETICS NIP DETROIT BY 4-3 ON SUDER'S HIT

Mackmen End Streak
Of Losses at Five;
Coleman Is Winner

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26 (AP)—Pete Suder's two-run double in the eighth inning gave the Philadelphia Athletics a 4-3 decision over the Detroit Tigers and snapped their five-game losing streak today.

Hal Newhouse, Detroit's ace southpaw, was charged with the defeat, although Suder's hit came off relief pitcher Art Houtteman.

Newhouse had filled the bases on hits by Elmer Valo and Buddy Rosar and a walk to Ferris Fain.

The Tigers had the tying and winning runs on base in the ninth.

Bob Savage, who had taken over for starting pitcher Joe Coleman, got Eddie Mayo on a pop fly to end the game.

The victory was Coleman's 12th of the season and his fifth over Detroit.

Suder also drove in another run with a single in the fourth. The A's other run came on Coleman's double and Barney McCosky's single in the seventh.

Detroit scored single runs in the second, third and sixth innings and appeared headed for victory until Suder cut loose with his two-bagger.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26 (P)—The National Football league ruled today a rookie grider need not jeopardize his future by playing in a college all-star charity game without "full" contract protection.

In a precedent-making decision, Commissioner Bert Bell upheld the right of passing star Harry Gilmer to stay out of the All-Star-Chicago Cardinals game held Aug. 20, under the sponsorship of Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.

Tribune Charities had demanded that Gilmer be barred under a contract rule from playing non-championship games with the Washington Redskins.

Bell rejected the Tribune request. He said his "first interest" is to protect the players and the public.

THE COMMISSIONER, restating the case, said Gilmer had agreed to play for the All-Stars on condition he received $150 plus full insurance coverage of his Redskins contract.

The Tribune "refused to insure him, as he requested," Bell declared, adding:

"Gilmer's demand for full protection against loss under his contract was, in my opinion, both reasonable and fair."

At Chicago, Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago newspaper and vice-president of Tribune charities, said:

"This (Bell's) arguments are absolutely ridiculous and the whole matter is

Dodgers Win 14th From Reds by 6-1; Hatten Is Winner

CINCINNATI, Aug. 26 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers humbled Cincinnati for the 14th time in 17 meetings today as lefty Joe Hatten pitched the Dodgers to a 6-1 triumph over the Reds.

It was Brooklyn's ninth straight win without a loss at Crosley field and Hatten's fifth triumph over the Reds and his 10th of the season.

Hatten gave up seven hits, two of them coming in the second inning when the Reds scored their lone run on a single by Danny Little and a double by Hank Sauer.

The Dodgers took the lead in the fifth on Pee Wee Reese's two-run homer off starting and losing pitcher Ken Peterson.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26 (AP) — The Chicago Cubs whipped the Boston Braves, 5 to 1 and 5 to 2, here today in a wild double-header that twice was marked by demonstrations by the crowd of 27,316. It reduced Boston's first-place margin to two-and-a-half games over St. Louis.

The fans turned their wrath against umpire Bill Stewart in the third inning of the second contest when he called Phil Cavarretta's drive a ground rule double because it stuck momentarily in the ivy on the left field wall.

They tossed soft rubbish at Stewart and it took five minutes to quiet them down. A threat to forfeit the game was drowned out in the din of the crowd. The violent protest of the crowd seemed to have its emotional effect on the Cubs for they turned loose a frenzied four-run rally, highlighted by a triple by "Peanuts" Lowrey with the bases loaded.

Cards Defeat Giants In Doubleheader to Gain in Flag Chase

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 26 (AP) — Stan Musial's 32d home run with Erv Dusak on base broke a 5-5 ninth inning tie and enabled the St. Louis Cardinals to win the night half of a day-night double header from the New York Giants, 7 to 5. The Cards also won the afternoon affair, 7 to 2, to snap a six-game Giant winning streak.

Police Team Lists Practice for Tilt With Girl Champs

Field captain Tommy Lawler has called the first practice for the Police department softball team for Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock on Porter field.

The cops will be getting ready for their game with the State champion Cardinals and will be looking forward to getting revenge for a 7-6 defeat the past year.

Sept. 12 has been set as the tentative date of the game and the police officers are going to get in as much practice as possible before the big game.

They will be allowed to have a pitcher and catcher from the Industrial Softball league. Members of the team are, in addition to Lawler, Harry Chrusch, Mike Shanta, Tom Corum, Irv Frederick, Lou Borgiet, George Wayock, Russ Hum-

Coach Bill Gohean and his assistant, Mike Wenglasz, have called the first practice of West Pottsgrove High school gridmen for Monday morning at 9 a. m. The practice will run until noon.

Gohean will have a host of lettermen back from the past year and he is looking forward to a highly successful season.

The Falcons open the season, Sept. 25 against West Reading and close with Norco in the annual Thanksgiving Day tussle.

The schedule:
Sept. 25 West Reading—Home.
Oct. 2 Spring City—Home.
Oct. 9 Marple-Newtown—Away.
Oct. 16 Pennsburg—Home.
Oct. 23 East Greenville—Away.
Oct. 30 Schwenkill—Home.

Local Angler Gets Catfish, King-Sized One

Here's a fish story to end all fish stories.
Lynn Keller, 1128 High street, was fishing Wednesday night at Safe Harbor, Lancaster county, and he hooked a catfish.

Now, that isn't unusual—lots of people catch catfish. But, not many, if any, have ever reeled in a catfish like this one.

It measured 29 1/2 inches and weighed 10 1/2 pounds. When held up alongside an ordinary sized catfish, it looked like a whale.

Said Keller: "I'd better get a picture of this. No one will believe me."

New Devices Tested For Detecting Smoke In Planes, CAB Told

NEW YORK, Aug. 25 (AP)—New smoke detection devices for aircraft are being tested because those now in use are "not yielding the results expected," a Civil Aeronautics board hearing was told today.

The board is investigating the causes of a United Airlines plane crash June 17 near Mt. Carmel, Pa., in which 43 persons were killed.

Albert Vollmacke, chief air frame and equipment engineer for the Civil Aeronautics administration, revealed the tests and said there have been 22 reports of false smoke alarms in aircraft this year.

Earlier in the hearing, the theory had been advanced that the pilot of the United Airlines plane may have become unconscious from carbon dioxide fumes from auto fire extinguishers, set off by a false smoke alarm.

Vollmacke said tests of new equipment to detect smoke are to be completed about Sept. 15. Another witness, Robert M. Gross, CAA flight engineering agent for Region 2, at Atlanta, Ga., told of tests made the past January on the carbon dioxide problem.

He said in one test gas escaping from a fire extinguisher in forward baggage pit became so strong in the pilot's cabin that the experimenters had to put on oxygen masks.

Vollmacke and Merrill Grix, CAA power plant engineer for Region 6 at Los Angeles, were questioned whether there was any CAA delay in notifying the industry of the results of the January tests.

VOLLMACKE SAID that all CAA regions were notified in telegrams in June of the dangerous condition. Grix, however, said a Douglas Aircraft corporation report and CAA flight manuals had noted the condition in February and CAA "airworthiness" directives of March 8 and 19 contained the information.

Harry E. Hjorth, assistant chief fire plant engineer for Douglas at Santa Monica, Calif., testified that he doubted there had been a gaspoldering fire in the baggage pit of the crashed plane as an examination had shown no traces of smoke.

Earlier Clayton Stiles and James E. Laubach, members of the Airline Pilots association, testified that recorded messages from the ill-fated plane showed no excitement on the part of pilot or co-pilot.

STILES SAID he was a personal friend of George Warner, the dead pilot, and that the tone of voice of neither man indicated that they thought they were encountering more than a "normal emergency." Stiles added that he had experienced three false alarms for the detection devices himself and in two cases had noted the presence of carbon dioxide in the pilot's cabin.

The hearing will be resumed tomorrow and was expected to continue into Saturday.

State Police to Appear in Bicentennial Program

READING, Aug. 26 (AP) — The Pennsylvania State police tomorrow afternoon will take a leading role in the Reading-Berks county bicentennial exposition at the Reading fairgrounds.

In the evening, Eddie Cantor, stage, screen and radio comedian, will head an all-star program.

No State Has Right to Channel Thinking, Rogge Tells Pro-Red Parley of Intellectuals

WROCLAW, Poland, Aug. 26 (AP) — An American struck back tonight against Russian attacks on the United States with the declaration that "no state or political party has any right to tell human beings what to think."

John Rogge, former assistant U.S. attorney general, in a speech to the World Congress of Intellectuals said "human beings should be taught to think for themselves."

He said he was opposed to "authoritarianism of any kind."

Rogge said he came to Wroclaw to learn what could be done to preserve peace.

He said there were no panacea for the world's ills but that of them could be cured through understanding and co-operation.

"The United States will find certain solutions for its problems. The Soviet Union will find another solution for its problems. The solution which any particular nation finds will follow the line of its cultural pattern."

PROF. A. J. P. Taylor, a British delegate, told the congress tonight it is "a congress for hate and war."

The Oxford university history professor said "this congress has not served the purpose of bringing people together. It has been a congress for preaching hate, a congress for war and not peace."

Taylor reminded the delegates that Russia alone did not win the war.

Most of the American and British delegates appeared shocked by the violence of Russian attacks against the United States and Britain.

Today, for instance, Ilya Ehrenburg, a Russian journalist, told the congress that the United States is preparing for a "barbaric war." During his talk he labelled Americans as representing everything from bourgeois barbarism to savages.

The World Congress of Intellectuals, called by French and Polish committees to map a peace program, for the last 48 hours has heard little more than bitter denunciations of the United States and American culture.

Russian delegates have spearheaded the assault, with support from delegates of many countries who are pro-Soviet.

The congress is top heavy with Russian sympathizers or left-wingers.

Peace resolutions are slated for adoption Saturday. From the tempo of the congress thus far, however, it's unlikely anything other than a peace program advancing Russian views would be adopted.

Schools to Open Sept. 8 In New Hanover Township

New Hanover township schools will open Sept. 8, it was announced yesterday.

Each of the schools has been classified according to grades for the 1948-49 season. The grades are as follows: Hoffmansville, grade one; Freed's, grade two; Layfield, grade three; Knause, grade four; Weand's, grade five and six.

Transportation will be provided for all seventh and eighth grade pupils. Pupils from Freed's, Deep Creek, Erbs and Anise schools will attend East Greenville High school, while pupils from all other schools will attend Boyertown High school.

Army Alloys Funds For New Weapons

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26 (AP) — The Army Ordnance department has set aside $5,000,000 to develop an improved 50 caliber machine gun for the Air Force and a new light weight fully automatic rifle for the Army.

Army Ordnance officers said it is hoped to develop a machinegun that will be lighter to carry and which could be set up without a tripod. This would be an especially improved weapon for paratroopers.

The new automatic rifle will be something like the present Garand M1. It would fire .30 caliber bullets, as does the Garand M1.

The improvement would lie in making the rifle fully automatic, which means it would continue firing until the chamber is empty. It would be a handy weapon for a spraying attack.

The Garand fires only as long as the finger is held on the trigger. The French made their final stand against the English on the American continent in 1760 at Chimney Island, Ontario.

Oregon is known as the "Valentine State" because it was admitted to the union on St. Valentine's Day, 1859.
